

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ProTranslating Relocates its Headquarters to Coral Gables

MIAMI, Sept. 10, 2010 – ProTranslating today announced it has moved its headquarters to 2850 Douglas Road in Coral Gables.

At its new location, ProTranslating is modernizing its workspace, breaking with tradition. With the intent to create a more interactive office environment for its staff, ProTranslating has done away with the cubicle-style layout and designed a sleek open office that will encourage teamwork, efficiency and corporate transparency while providing cutting-edge technology.

“We are excited to be in the heart of one of Miami’s premier business districts where we will continue to provide our clients with the dependable and exceptional professional services that we are known for,” said Maria Cristina de la Vega, president of ProTranslating. “As home to one of the largest in-house staff of linguists in the nation, our new contemporary workplace allows for greater collaboration and employee production.”

Since being founded 35 years ago by Luis de la Vega, Ph.D. and Maria Cristina de la Vega, ProTranslating has become one of the largest translating/interpreting companies in the country. The company currently employs more than 100 people and posted sales of over 10 million in 2009. Its growth and reputation have earned the company recognition in the Hispanic Business 100 and Inc 5000 lists.

About ProTranslating

ProTranslating provides language solutions, to corporations, law firms and individuals worldwide. Headquartered in Florida with more than 35 years of experience, it boasts one of the largest teams of in-house linguists in the industry. ProTranslating is a pioneer in language services and actively participates in the top industry associations it belongs to, e.g., NAJIT and ATA. Its staff is committed to the success of its clients which include Mastercard, Holland & Knight, Johnson & Johnson and the White House. With its ISO 9001:2000 certification as evidence of its audited quality management processes, ProTranslating stands out in providing expert and dependable language professionals who understand the importance of individual attention. For additional information, call (305) 371-7887 or log on to www.protranslating.com.